

Listing Craft & Photo Best Practices for Major Resale Platforms

Optimizing a resale listing is more than just snapping a picture and adding a price. It requires an understanding of how different peer-to-peer (C2C) marketplaces function, how buyers search, and what platform algorithms reward. This knowledge article condenses current best practices across major resale platforms (Etsy, eBay, OfferUp, Craigslist, Nextdoor, Poshmark, Mercari, Depop, Vinted, Gumtree, and Carousell) into a friendly, organized reference. It follows the Neighborly Bazaar Tool-ette's style—glee-lite, encouraging experimentation while remaining structured and clear.

1 Purpose & Platform Overview

1.1 Why optimized listings matter

- Visibility – Search algorithms favor complete listings with relevant titles, accurate categories and multiple photos. A strong listing gets surfaced when buyers search or browse on mobile, increasing impressions.
- Trust – Clear descriptions and honest photos reduce friction. Buyers are more likely to message sellers whose listings feel transparent, leading to faster sales and fewer returns.
- Efficiency – A well-structured listing answers most questions up front (dimensions, condition, defects, pickup location). This saves time for both parties and minimizes no-shows.

1.2 Platform snapshots

Each marketplace is shaped by its community and the way items are presented. The table below summarizes the core purpose, primary audience and the typical vibe for the nine platforms covered in this guide.

Platform	Core purpose	Primary audience & vibe
Etsy	Handmade, vintage goods and craft supplies. Titles should be concise and descriptive.	Artisans and shoppers looking for unique, handcrafted or collectible items. Community oriented and design-conscious.
eBay	Broad auction and fixed-price marketplace. Global reach with robust search tools.	Bargain hunters, collectors and resellers seeking new, refurbished and used goods. Emphasizes trust via detailed listings and buyer protection.

Platform	Core purpose	Primary audience & vibe
OfferUp	Local buy/sell app for everyday items; simple mobile listing flow.	Casual sellers and bargain shoppers, often transacting via in-app chat. Focus on quick deals and intuitive UX.
Craigslist	Long-standing classifieds site for local goods, services and jobs.	Wide demographic; minimal UI means sellers must create descriptive titles. Posts quickly move down the feed and expire.
Nextdoor	Neighborhood social network with a dedicated “For Sale & Free” section.	Neighbors exchanging household items. Encourages safe, polite interactions; posts can be discounted after 48 h to boost visibility ¹ .
Poshmark	Fashion-forward marketplace emphasizing community and sharing.	Clothing and accessory resellers—often individuals building personal “closets.” Visual consistency and storytelling are prized ² .
Mercari	Mobile-focused marketplace with shipping and Smart Pricing features.	Buyers seeking deals on varied categories; sellers appreciate simple listing flow. Encourages using up to 12 photos and hashtags ³ .
Depop	Youthful fashion and lifestyle platform blending social media and resale.	Gen Z and millennial sellers/buyers of streetwear and vintage pieces; strong emphasis on aesthetic and self-expression ⁴ .
Vinted	European marketplace for second-hand clothing and accessories.	Budget-conscious and eco-minded shoppers. Generous photo allowance (20) and straightforward listing fields ⁵ .
Gumtree	UK/AU classifieds site for anything from furniture to cars.	Local buyers and sellers; posts expire after ~30 days and can be bumped. Titles allow 100 characters and descriptions up to 10 000 characters ⁶ .
Carousell	Mobile classifieds popular in Southeast Asia with buyer-magnet promotion options.	Urban sellers who want an easy way to list up to 10 photos, with support for multiple aspect ratios and a focus on safe in-app communication ⁷ .

2 Title Crafting Guidelines (SCAMPER)

An effective title is the first filter between your item and a buyer’s search result. To systematically improve listing titles, apply the SCAMPER technique:

S – Substitute | Replace generic words with more specific synonyms (e.g., “table” → “oak farmhouse table”).

C – Combine | Combine important descriptors succinctly—brand + model + condition (e.g., “Dyson V8 vacuum used” instead of separate adjectives).

A – Adapt | Mirror the platform's search behavior. Research how buyers describe similar items and incorporate those phrases. For example, on eBay, leading with the brand and model helps because search sorts results by relevant keywords ⁸ .

M – Modify | Tweak capitalization and spacing for readability. Avoid ALL CAPS or excessive punctuation; many platforms penalize titles that look spammy. Poshmark recommends proper capitalization and spacing and discourages keyword stuffing ⁹ .

P – Put to another use | Use available character counts strategically. Add secondary attributes (size, material, color) when there is room, moving less important info to the description or tags on platforms like Etsy ¹⁰ .

E – Eliminate | Remove unnecessary filler words (“brand new,” “cheap”) and adjectives that do not describe the item. OfferUp's posting rules warn against adding unrelated keywords or price points intended to manipulate search results ¹¹ .

R – Reverse | Consider reversing the order of descriptors to emphasize a unique feature. For example, on Depop, leading with style aesthetics (“Y2K denim mini skirt”) can attract niche searches.

2.1 Platform-specific title parameters

Platform	Title length / features	Recommended practices
Etsy	No hard character limit but titles should be clear and scannable. Etsy suggests using fewer than 15 words and placing the item name and top three traits (color, material, size) near the start ¹⁰ .	Avoid subjective adjectives in the title; instead use attributes customers actually search. Move extra descriptors to tags or description.
eBay	80 characters maximum ⁸ .	Use all available characters when relevant: brand + model + specifics (size, color) + keywords such as “women’s,” “vintage,” etc. Avoid punctuation and filler words.
OfferUp	No specific length limit but titles should be a detailed name including brand, model, year or size ¹² .	Write succinctly to fit in mobile previews; avoid keyword stuffing and manipulative terms (e.g., “free shipping,” “best deal”), which OfferUp forbids ¹¹ .
Craigslist	Titles appear as headlines and should grab attention. The platform doesn’t enforce a character limit but shorter headlines (40–70 characters) are easier to read on the site and in email digests.	Use a unique identifier (e.g., “Mid-century teak sideboard”) and consider including a secret keyword to filter your responses, as some sellers recommend. Avoid repeated posts within 48 h to remain compliant ¹³ .

Nextdoor	Titles should simply state the item (e.g., “Metal patio bistro set”) and avoid filler phrases like “I’m selling.”	A strong category choice is more important than creative adjectives. Nextdoor posts can be discounted after 48 h to boost them ¹ , so clarity at first glance matters.
Poshmark	Titles allow up to 80 characters but listing experts recommend staying around 60 characters for visibility ⁹ .	Lead with the brand, style and size (e.g., “Anthropologie lace boho maxi dress size M”). Avoid all caps and repeated keywords; Poshmark’s algorithm can penalize keyword stuffing ⁹ .
Mercari	Titles can include hashtags (#) and Mercari allows up to three hashtags per title ³ . There is no strict character limit, but clear names help search.	Place the most important keywords first: brand + product name + major descriptor. Use hashtags sparingly to highlight features or trending categories (#vintage, #newwithtags).
Depop	Titles have no published limit; the visual aesthetic and community slang matter more.	Use style-driven keywords (“Y2K,” “cottagecore,” “Nike Dunks”), and consider adding one or two relevant hashtags within the description rather than the title.
Vinted	Titles should be concise but include brand, size, color and unique features to improve search. There is no explicit character limit.	Avoid irrelevant words; use proper case and separate descriptors with commas (e.g., “Zara blue linen wrap dress, size 38”). Vinted’s generous photo allowance means visuals support the title ¹⁴ .
Gumtree	Titles can be up to 100 characters ¹⁵ .	Use all available space to convey item, brand, model and condition. Since Gumtree posts expire after ~30 days ¹⁶ , a descriptive title helps them perform well without repeated edits.
Carousell	No defined character limit; the first few words appear in search previews.	Focus on the item’s name and its key attribute (e.g., “IKEA MALM white dresser 4-drawer”). Avoid duplicate keywords as Carousell discourages keyword stuffing ¹⁷ .

3 Description Framework (CoT / SoT)

Writing descriptions that convert requires balancing detail and readability. A Chain of Thought (CoT) approach structures information logically, guiding the buyer through key points, while a Stream of Thought (SoT) tone keeps the text conversational. Use the following general framework:

1. Opening hook – Start with a compelling sentence summarizing the item’s appeal or story (“Lovingly hand-knit baby blanket used once”). On Etsy, draw attention to craftsmanship or uniqueness; on Depop, use trending aesthetics.
2. Key features – List brand, model, size, color, material and year. For electronics or fashion, include measurements and compatibility details. eBay encourages using product identifiers (UPC, style code) to help search ⁸.
3. Condition & history – Be transparent about wear or flaws. OfferUp requires honest descriptions and prohibits misrepresenting items ¹¹. On Nextdoor, mention any defects or distinctive marks ¹. On Poshmark, show all flaws in photos and describe them so buyers know exactly what they’re buying ².
4. Pickup/shipping & extras – State whether it’s pickup only (Craigslist, Nextdoor), include approximate neighborhood (do not list your exact address). For shipping platforms like Mercari and Poshmark, mention whether you’re using prepaid shipping and if you’ll bundle items.
5. Call to action – Conclude with a friendly invitation to message or buy (“DM me if you’d like more photos” or “Ready to go to a new home!”). On Depop, playful language resonates; on Gumtree and Craigslist, a polite closing builds trust.

3.1 Tone differences by platform

Platform	Tone & description hints
Etsy	Creative, story-driven. Explain how the item was made or its provenance. Focus on quality and uniqueness; mention if it’s handmade, vintage or repurposed ¹⁰ .
eBay	Professional and keyword-rich. Use bullet points to highlight specifications and compatibility. Include product identifiers, part numbers and whether manuals/ accessories are included ⁸ .
OfferUp	Casual and straightforward. Buyers prefer reading clear, honest descriptions; avoid jargon. Mention if price is firm or negotiable, but do not attempt to manipulate search with irrelevant keywords ¹¹ .
Craigslist	Informative yet concise. Because posts expire quickly and appear in simple text, list major details and include your preferred meeting neighborhood. Avoid giving personal contact until you are comfortable.
Nextdoor	Neighorly and safety-conscious. Do not list phone numbers or addresses ¹ ; instead, invite neighbors to message you through the app. Note the pickup area to enable map visibility.
Poshmark	Enthusiastic and fashion-savvy. Use trending descriptors (e.g., “boho,” “minimalist”) and list original retail price, size conversions and fit notes. Disclose any fabric pulls or missing buttons ² .

Platform	Tone & description hints
Mercari	Honest and efficient. Spell out brand, condition, size, color, dimensions and damage ³ . Mention if you accept offers or allow Smart Pricing.
Depop	Personality-driven. Use a friendly voice and highlight aesthetics (“perfect for festival season”). Include hashtags (up to five) in the description to increase discoverability.
Vinted	Clear and factual. Describe brand, size and color; note whether tags are attached. The platform’s buyer protection encourages honest descriptions and prohibits misrepresented items ¹⁴ .
Gumtree	Detailed and local. You have up to 10 000 characters ¹⁵ , so include measurements, brand history, reason for sale and any faults. Mention if you’re open to offers or trades.
Carousell	Friendly and concise. Summarize item details and price, then invite chat for details. Avoid linking to external sites; Carousell prohibits directing users outside the platform ¹⁸ .

4 Photo & Media Strategy (ToT)

Photos sell the story long before the description is read. A Tree of Thought (ToT) perspective helps you plan a comprehensive photo set: start with a cover shot (root) and branch out into supporting images that reveal different angles, details and context.

4.1 General photography principles

1. Lighting – Use soft, natural light; position near a window but avoid direct sunlight. For small items, consider a light box or diffused lamp. Carousell suggests setting up close to a window but avoiding harsh noon light ¹⁹ .
2. Background & composition – Keep backgrounds neutral and uncluttered. OfferUp forbids stickers or text overlays ²⁰ , and Nextdoor recommends a flat-colored, clean background ¹ . Poshmark’s “covershot” should have a simple backdrop ² .
3. Focus & framing – Ensure images are in focus. Carousell advises keeping the subject centered and tapping to lock focus ²¹ . Use portrait orientation for tall items and landscape for wide objects ²² .
4. Angles & details – Provide multiple perspectives: front, back, sides, interior, close-ups of logos or tags, and any flaws. Carousell encourages showcasing different angles and details including receipts or boxes ¹⁷ .
5. Accuracy – Do not use stock photos for used items; eBay prohibits this and requires at least one real photo of the actual item ²³ . Carousell also discourages stock images unless the item is a pre-order ²⁴ .

Etsy	Up to 10 photos per listing and 1 video (5–15 sec).	Photos should be at least 2000 px on the shortest side; square cropping recommended. Show scale with a ruler or model.
eBay	Up to 24 photos per listing; first is free; each file up to 12 MB ²⁵ .	Minimum 500 px on the longest side; no watermarks or added text; use high-resolution images and avoid stock photos for used items ²³ .
OfferUp	Up to 12 photos ²⁶ . All photos must be of the actual item, high-quality and well-lit ²⁷ .	No text or stickers on images; no catalog photos; include multiple angles and accessories.
Craigslist	Up to 24 photos per ad ²⁸ .	First photo becomes the thumbnail; keep resolution under 600 KB per image for faster loading. Use JPEG images; maintain consistent aspect ratio.
Nextdoor	Maximum of 10 photos/videos per post; photos up to 10 MB and videos up to 500 MB ²⁹ .	Acceptable formats include JPG, PNG, GIF and TIFF; photos display as 1:1 or 16:9. Keep backgrounds neutral and show multiple angles; include defects ¹ .
Poshmark	Up to 16 photos plus 1 short video . First image is the “covershot” ² .	Square aspect ratio recommended; ensure consistent lighting and background across your closet. Show tags, interiors and flaws; avoid filters.
Mercari	Up to 12 photos per listing ³ .	Use natural light and photograph every angle, including imperfections. The first image becomes the thumbnail. Hashtags can be added to highlight features.
Depop	4 photos per listing plus 1 video , with optional expansion to 8 (being tested).	Photos must be square (1280 × 1280 px). Use a consistent aesthetic; vary shots (flat lay, try-on, close-up). Include up to five hashtags in description.
Vinted	Up to 20 photos per listing ⁵ .	Show the item from all angles and include close-ups of faults. Natural lighting and plain backgrounds improve trust.
Gumtree	Up to 9 photos per listing ⁶ .	Make use of all nine slots; shoot from multiple perspectives with natural light and a plain backdrop. Keep file sizes reasonable for faster loading.

Carousell	Up to 10 photos per listing, or 20 for property listings in the Philippines ³⁰ .	Supports multiple aspect ratios: 2:1, 1:1, 2:3, 4:2, 3:2, 3:4, 3:5 ³¹ . Take both portrait and landscape shots depending on the object's shape; keep the item centered and background simple ³² . Do not use stock photos unless it's a pre-order ²⁴ .

4.3 Ordering of photos

1. Cover shot – The most eye-catching, clutter-free image. Platforms like Poshmark call this the “covershot” and Carousell uses it as the thumbnail. It should show the entire item on a neutral background.
2. Key angles – Include front, back and side views. For furniture, add a shot that places the item in context (e.g., against a wall) to show scale. Mercari and Carousell both recommend capturing multiple angles and including the box or receipt ¹⁷.
3. Details & defects – Close-ups of fabric texture, labels, serial numbers and any flaws. This honesty builds trust and is a requirement on platforms like Poshmark and Nextdoor ¹.
4. Contextual/usage – Show the item being used or styled (e.g., clothing on a person, kitchen appliance making a smoothie). This helps buyers imagine owning the item and can differentiate your listing.

5 Posting Nuances & Algorithmic Visibility

Optimizing when and how you post can dramatically improve views. Algorithms on C2C marketplaces reward freshness, relevance and engagement. Consider these platform-specific nuances:

5.1 Timing & cadence

Platform	Post timing advice & visibility window
Etsy	Listings are renewable every four months. Renew items when sales slow to bump them higher in search. Use Etsy Ads to increase visibility for competitive keywords.
eBay	Auction listings can be scheduled to end on Sunday evenings, when buyer activity peaks. Refresh stale listings by editing titles or updating photos.
OfferUp	Items appear in the feed chronologically and can be promoted via in-app boosting. Since older listings fall down the feed, consider deleting and reposting after a week. Follow the app's posting rules to avoid suspension ³³ .
Craigslist	Free ads expire in 7–45 days depending on category and city ³⁴ . Paid ads last 30 days ³⁵ . You may repost to one category in one city no more than once every 48 hours ¹³ . Use this cadence to keep your listing near the top without violating rules.
Nextdoor	Items can be discounted after 48 h to boost them to more neighbors ¹ . If your item doesn't sell, re-post after it's sold or closed to reset its position. Avoid multiple identical posts at once.

Platform	Post timing advice & visibility window
Poshmark	The algorithm rewards sharing. Share your own listings and those of others daily to appear in feeds. Host “Poshmark parties” at set times to align with category-specific events.
Mercari	Listings are most active within the first 24 hours; posting on Sunday evenings and Friday nights can increase visibility ³⁶ . Relist items periodically to reset their position in search.
Depop	Post when your target audience is active (evenings and weekends). Depop’s algorithm favors recently updated listings and those with engagement; reupload unsold items after a week to push them up.
Vinted	Items are sorted by “Most recent” or “Lowest price.” Relist or drop price to regain top spot. Use Vinted’s bump or wardrobe spotlight tools to promote listings.
Gumtree	Standard ads expire after 30 days ¹⁶ . Use “Bump up” or “Featured” paid options to keep your listing at the top. Posting on evenings or weekends can attract more views.
Carousell	New listings appear at the top of search results; older ones get buried quickly. Use the Buyer Magnet feature (available in Singapore, Hong Kong and Malaysia) to enhance visibility ³⁷ . Posting different items at intervals rather than in bulk can maximize exposure.

5.2 Hashtags, categories & geo-targeting

- Hashtags – Platforms like Mercari and Depop support hashtags in titles or descriptions; use relevant tags sparingly (e.g., #boho, #midcentury). Over-tagging can lower ranking due to perceived spam.
- Categories – Always select the most precise category. Mis-categorization reduces visibility and may violate marketplace rules. Carousell warns sellers to choose the correct category to avoid removal ³⁸.
- Geo-targeting – On local platforms (OfferUp, Craigslist, Nextdoor, Gumtree, Carousell), including your general neighborhood or zip code improves local search. OfferUp encourages listing an accurate geographic location ³⁹ and prohibits false locations.

5.3 Auto-expire rules & renewal

Understanding how long your listing remains active prevents stale posts. eBay stores images for 90 days after a listing ends ²⁵, so you can relist using the same photos. Craigslist posts expire between 7–45 days depending on the category ³⁴, while Gumtree defaults to 30 days but can be extended with paid tools ¹⁶. Nextdoor posts remain until sold or removed, but boosting after 48 h helps them appear again ¹. Mercari and Carousell do not auto-expire listings; however, older items sink in search results and should be relisted or refreshed.

6 Query Mapping & Examples

Anticipating user questions ensures you can answer quickly without having to re-research. The following list covers common queries along with concise answers anchored in the above best practices.

6.1 Frequently asked questions

#	User question	Answer
1	"Can I use emojis in my listing title?"	Most platforms allow UTF-8 characters, but use them sparingly. eBay and Poshmark titles sometimes display emojis but search algorithms may ignore them. Etsy discourages using symbols or emojis in titles because they don't help search.
2	"How many photos can I upload on Mercari?"	Up to 12 photos per listing ³ . The first image becomes the thumbnail; include multiple angles and flaws.
3	"Does Craigslist support video uploads?"	No; Craigslist does not support video. You can add an image that looks like a video preview and link to a hosted video, but it's a workaround ⁴⁰ .
4	"Why did my OfferUp listing get removed?"	OfferUp may remove listings that violate posting rules: duplicate posts, stock photos, keyword stuffing or including personal info ⁴¹ . Review the posting rules to ensure compliance.
5	"Should I renew my Etsy listing or create a new one?"	Renewing keeps your listing's reviews and favorites and pushes it up in search. Creating a new listing can also help if you want to test a different title or photos. Either way, update tags and categories.
6	"What's the best time to post on Mercari?"	Listings posted Sunday evenings and Friday nights tend to get more views ³⁶ . Post when your target audience is likely browsing.
7	"Does Poshmark penalize keyword stuffing?"	Yes. Poshmark recommends keeping titles around 60 characters and discourages stuffing irrelevant keywords; the algorithm may suppress spammy listings ⁹ .
8	"How long are eBay photos stored?"	eBay stores uploaded photos for up to 90 days after a listing ends ²⁵ . This allows you to relist quickly without re-uploading images.
9	"Can I link to my social media in a Carousell listing?"	No. Carousell prohibits directing users to external messaging or commerce platforms within listings ⁴² . Use in-app chat instead.
10	"How many hashtags can I include on Mercari?"	You can include up to three hashtags in the title on Mercari ³ . In the description there is no strict limit, but using a few targeted hashtags improves search.
11	"Does Depop require square photos?"	Yes. Depop photos must be square (1:1 ratio) and are typically 1280 × 1280 px .
12	"Can I boost my Nextdoor post?"	Yes. Nextdoor allows you to discount your item after 48 h which effectively boosts visibility; you cannot boost free items or posts without a price ¹ .
13	"What is Carousell Buyer Magnet?"	A promotional tool available in certain countries (Singapore, Hong Kong and Malaysia) that increases a listing's visibility; if it doesn't lead to a sale within 30 days, you aren't charged ³⁷ .

#	User question	Answer
14	"How many photos can I upload on Vinted?"	Vinted allows up to 20 photos per listing ⁵ , giving buyers a comprehensive view.
15	"Do Gumtree ads expire?"	Yes. Standard Gumtree ads expire after 30 days ; you can extend them using paid "Bump up" or "Featured" options ¹⁶ .
16	"Can I list the same item on multiple marketplaces?"	Yes, cross-listing is common. Use unique photos for each platform and monitor inventory to avoid double sales. Ensure each listing complies with its respective rules.
17	"Can I include personal contact info in Nextdoor or OfferUp descriptions?"	No. Nextdoor prohibits listing phone numbers or addresses; use private chat ¹ . OfferUp also warns against sharing personal info in listings ⁴³ .
18	"Do I need to use my real identity on OfferUp?"	Yes. OfferUp requires users to use their true identity and forbids throw-away email addresses ⁴⁴ .
19	"What is Smart Pricing on Mercari?"	A feature that automatically lowers your price incrementally until it reaches a floor price, helping your item stay competitive.
20	"Does eBay allow stock images?"	Only for new items. For used items, eBay's picture policy prohibits stock images and requires photos that show the item's actual condition ²³ .
21	"Why does my Gumtree listing appear far down the page?"	Gumtree sorts listings by recency. If your post is older or there is high volume, it will move down. Bumping up or re-posting after 30 days improves placement ¹⁶ .
22	"Can I edit the order of photos?"	Yes. Most apps (Etsy, eBay, Poshmark, Mercari, Carousell) let you drag photos to reorder. Place the most attractive image first.
23	"Is there a limit to description length?"	Gumtree offers up to 10 000 characters ¹⁵ ; eBay and Etsy do not publish explicit limits, but long, unstructured descriptions may deter readers. Focus on clarity.
24	"Can I list digital items?"	Etsy allows digital downloads; eBay also supports digital goods in certain categories. OfferUp, Craigslist, Nextdoor, Mercari and Carousell primarily focus on physical items and prohibit intangible goods.
25	"What happens when I mark a Nextdoor item as sold?"	The post is removed from the feed; you can no longer boost it or accept messages. To sell a similar item again, create a fresh listing to appear at the top.
